A DOCUMENTARY FILM PRODUCED IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE WWII FOUNDATION

BOMB DISPOSAL: THE UNTOLD WAR

HELP BRING THEIR STORY TO THE SCREEN

BASED ON THE BOOK THE KABOOM BOYS BY ELAINE HUME PEAKE & DON KEITH

- ANTICIPATED RELEASE: MAY 2027

During World War II, bomb disposal technicians took on one of the war's most dangerous and often overlooked missions: locating and defusing unexploded ordnance that threatened critical facilities, equipment, military personnel, and civilian lives.

Their courage, ingenuity, and sacrifice laid the foundation for modern bomb disposal. While technology, training, and threats have evolved, the mission remains as critical today as it was during World War II: protecting lives.

Their legacy lives on through the men and women who continue this vital work, and their largely untold story deserves to be told.
